PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on January 9, 2019, at 1:00 p.m. or as soon as the matter may be heard, in Courtroom 7, before the Honorable Nathanael Cousins, Plaintiffs Jackie Fitzhenry-Russell and Gegham Margaryan (“Class Representatives”)<sup>1</sup> shall and hereby do move the Court for an order:

- (1) approving of sending notice to all class members who would be bound by the settlement of this class action as set forth in the class action settlement agreement dated January 4, 2019 (Dkt. 325) (“Settlement”);
- (2) directing the dissemination of notice in the form and manner set forth in the Settlement; and
- (3) setting a date for a final approval hearing.

A copy of the [Plaintiff’s Unopposed Proposed] Order Granting Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement is attached to the Settlement Agreement as Exhibit D and also separately submitted herewith.

PLEASE ALSO TAKE NOTICE that, after expiration of the time for class members to opt out or object, and upon the occurrence of the final approval hearing, Class Representatives will seek entry of a further order:

- (1) granting final approval to the Settlement and entering judgment thereon;
- (2) entering an injunction against Defendants Keurig Dr Pepper, Inc and Dr Pepper/Seven Up, Inc. (collectively, “KDP” or “Defendants”), requiring changes to the Labeling of Canada Dry Ginger Ale as further set forth in the Settlement;
- (3) requiring Defendants to pay all Valid Claims made by Class Members under the Settlement;
- (4) awarding class representative service awards of $5,000 to each of the named plaintiffs Jackie Fitzhenry-Russell and Gegham Margaryan; and

A copy of the [Proposed] Order Granting Final Approval of Class Action Settlement is attached to the Settlement Agreement as Exhibit E and separately submitted herewith.

This Motion is based on Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, this Notice of Motion, the supporting Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the Gutride Declaration, the Margarian Declaration, the Durie Declaration, the DeBenedictis Declaration, the Finnegan Declaration, the Meyer Declaration, and the pleadings and papers on file in this action, including the class action settlement agreement dated January 4, 2019 (Dkt. 325), and any other matter of which this Court may take judicial notice.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

A. Introduction

After years of discovery and hard-fought motion practice, and on the eve of trial in this case, Defendants agreed to settle various copycat cases on a 49-State basis by removing the “Made From Real Ginger” claim from their Canada Dry ginger ales (collectively, the “Products”). They also agreed to allow purchasers to make claims for cash refunds of $0.40 for each Product purchased during the class period, up to a maximum of 13 Products ($5.20) without Proof of Purchase or 10 products ($40.00) with proof of purchase, with a guaranteed minimum payment of $2.00 even if fewer than five purchases are claimed, subject to a cumulative cap for all claims of $11.2 million, above which payments will be reduced pro rata. Although Plaintiffs and their counsel were not directly involved in the negotiations that led to the 49-state settlement, its terms are modeled on proposals made more than a year ago by Plaintiffs in this litigation and in Massachusetts and New York actions also being prosecuted by Plaintiffs’ counsel, all of which were on file before the copycat cases that Defendants agreed to settle.

The parties have now agreed to similar settlement terms in the California litigation, including (1) a permanent injunction to be issued by this Court regarding the label changes, and (2) the same monetary relief to each California claimant, except that such claims shall not be subject to the $11.2 million cap. Instead, Defendants may terminate the settlement if more than one million valid claims are submitted by California purchasers, meaning the parties will return to litigation and there is no pro rata reduction. Defendants also have admitted that it was the work of Plaintiffs and their counsel that was the catalyst for the injunctive relief and monetary benefits agreed in the 49-State settlement. Defendants will pay all costs of notice and administration.

Each plaintiff seeks a $5,000 representative service award, and Plaintiffs counsel seeks an award of $2,250,000 in fees and in costs.<sup>2</sup> None of these sums comes at the expense of any amount of money set aside for the class. Plaintiffs and their counsel have not yet received any

<sup>2</sup> A separate settlement agreement, also provided to the Court, resolves the Massachusetts and New York actions. As part of that settlement, Defendants have agreed to make improvements to the 49-State Settlement for the benefit of class members. Upon approval of the 49-State settlement and dismissal of the Massachusetts and New York actions, Plaintiffs’ counsel will receive an additional $750,000, for a grand total under both settlements of $3,000,000.

1 compensation for their more than 5741.8 hours of work on this case (equating to a lodestar of 2 $$4,364,398.50) or for the more than $407,611.95 in out-of-pocket expenses they have incurred
3 (for experts, deposition transcripts, filing fees, etc.). Even without the Settlement, Plaintiffs would 4 have been entitled to an award of attorneys' fees under the catalyst theory because KDP agreed in 5 the 49-State Settlement to the injunctive relief sought by Ms. Fitzhenry-Russell since December 6 2016—i.e., to change the Canada Dry label and advertising. Thus, the Settlement was not 7 motivated by a desire to obtain fees—which Plaintiffs would have received separately as the 8 catalyst for the change—but instead to get monetary relief for the certified class. The monetary 9 relief obtained for the certified class in the form of claims-made in the Settlement is likely superior 10 to results that could have been achieved at trial, because there would still need to be claims after 11 trial and the per-product recovery would be lower.

12 As the fair, reasonable and adequate Settlement is the product of a non-collusive, 13 adversarial negotiation, and Class Counsel's request for fees and costs is fair and reasonable, 14 Plaintiff respectfully requests that this motion be granted so that notice of the proposal can be 15 given to the class.

16 B. Background and Settlement Negotiations

17 1. California Procedural Summary

18 On December 28, 2016, Jackie Fitzhenry-Russell and Robin Dale, through their counsel
19 Gutride Safier LLP ("GSLLP"), initiated litigation on behalf of against KDP by filing a Class 20 Action Complaint in Santa Cruz County Superior Court. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants had 21 deceptively marketed and sold its Canada Dry Ginger Ale products with the representation "Made 22 form Real Ginger" on the front label, when in fact it does not contain "real ginger" as reasonable 23 consumers understand that term, nor does it provide the health benefits that consumers reasonably 24 expect from real ginger. Plaintiff further alleged that, as a result of the deceptive label, Defendants 25 caused the Products to be sold at a higher retail price. Plaintiffs alleged claims for violations of the 26 California Consumer Legal Remedies Act, Civil Code § 1780 et seq. ("CLRA"), false advertising 27 under California Business and Professions Code § 17500 et seq.; unfair business practices under 28 California Business and Professions Code § 17200 et seq.; and misrepresentation. Plaintiffs sought

1 to pursue these claims on behalf of themselves and all purchasers of Canada Dry in the United 2 States (other than resellers) between December 28, 2012 and the present. Plaintiffs sought an 3 injunction to require Defendants to cease using the phrase “Made from Real Ginger” in labeling
4 and marketing. Plaintiffs also sought to recover, on behalf of the class of all purchasers, the dollar
5 amount of the “premium” price attributable to the alleged misrepresentations. GSSLP also drafted
6 and sent a demand letter to KDP pursuant to the CLRA on December 29, 2018. (Gutride Decl., Ex.
7 1.) Defendants timely removed the action to the Northern District of California on February 3, 8 2017. (Dkt. #1.)

9 On February 21, 2017, Defendants moved to dismiss Plaintiffs’ complaint. (Dkt. #16.)
10 Defendants argued, inter alia, that Plaintiffs lacked standing to sue and that she had failed to plead 11 a claim for relief. Plaintiffs opposed the motion. On April 19, the Court granted in part and denied 12 in part the motion and granted Plaintiffs leave to amend their complaint. (Dkt. #31.) On May 10, 13 2017, Plaintiffs filed an amended class action complaint. (Dkt. #42.)

14 On March 14, 2017, another law firm, Faruqi & Faruqi, filed a case in the Central District
15 of California entitled Arash Hashemi, et al v. Dr Pepper Snapple Group, Inc. et al., No. 2:17-cv-
16 02042-FMO. GSSLP moved to stay prosecution of the Hashemi case and to appoint GSSLP
17 interim lead counsel for the proposed nationwide class. (Dkt. #48-49.) The Faruqi firm consented 18 to the transfer of the Hashemi case to this Court and opposed GSSLP’s motion for appointment as 19 interim lead counsel. (Dkt. #54-55.) On June 28, 2017, the Court appointed GSSLP as interim lead
20 counsel and directed all plaintiffs to file a consolidated amended complaint. (Dkt. #60.) The Faruqi 21 firm declined to join in the consolidated amended complaint and dismissed its clients’ claims.
22 (Dkt. #64-65.) GSSLP filed the amended complaint on July 19, 2017. (Dkt. #66.)

23 On July 14, 2017, the Margarian Law Firm filed a case in the Central District of California
24 entitled Gegham Margaryan, et al v. Dr Pepper Snapple Group, Inc. et al., No. 2:17-cv-05234-25 JFW. This action was also transferred to this Court on August 3, 2017 and was consolidated with 26 the Fitzhenry-Russell case on August 21, 2017 (Dkt. #75)

27 On August 18, 2017, Defendants moved to dismiss Plaintiffs’ amended complaint.
28 Defendants argued, inter alia, that Plaintiffs failed to plead fraud with particularity and that the

1 Court lacked personal jurisdiction over a nationwide class. (Dkt. # 74.) Plaintiffs opposed the 2 motion. On September 22, 2018, the Court denied Defendants' motion without oral argument.
3 (Dkt. #87.) Defendants then requested permission to file an interlocutory appeal on the personal 4 jurisdiction issue. Plaintiffs opposed the request, and the Court denied the motion. (Dkt. # 105.)
5 On October 31, 2017, Plaintiffs filed a second amended consolidated complaint which included
6 the claims of Mr. Margaryan. (Dkt. #97.)

7 Beginning in early 2017, the parties engaged in extensive discovery. Plaintiffs reviewed 8 over 200,000 pages of Defendants emails and marketing documents. Each of the named plaintiffs 9 was deposed. Plaintiffs also conducted depositions of Defendants' senior employees with authority 10 over marketing, product formulation, and customer inquiries. In addition, Plaintiffs retained and 11 worked with a survey expert to conduct three surveys of California consumers regarding (1) what 12 they understood the phrase "Made from Real Ginger" to mean, (2) how important that perceived 13 meaning was to their purchasing decisions, and (3) how the inclusion of the phrase affected the 14 price of Canada Dry Ginger Ale. Plaintiffs also retained and worked with an economist to estimate 15 classwide damages; he opined that based on the survey results, Class members had paid a price 16 premium for the Canada Dry Ginger Ale purchased during the class period averaging 17 approximately 4% of the purchase price, which equated to a total overpayment of $10,778,477.16 18 during the class period, or an average of $0.09 per product purchase. Plaintiffs additionally 19 retained and worked with a chemist who used gas chromatography/mass spectrometry to analyze 20 the amount of ginger compounds in Canada Dry as compared to competing brands. This discovery 21 led to motion practice among the parties on several issues, leading to an additional deposition of 22 one plaintiff. There also was extensive motion practice in the District of New Jersey regarding a 23 third party subpoena to Givaudan Flavor Corp., which supplies certain flavor ingredients to 24 Defendants. Plaintiffs retained Michael J. DeBenedictis, an attorney barred in the states of New 25 Jersey and New York, to assist in the motion practice involving Givaudan.

26 In March 2018, Robin Dale sought permission to voluntarily dismiss her claims without 27 being required to pay Defendants' attorneys' fees. (Dkt. # 159). Defendants' opposed the 28 application. The Court granted permission for voluntary dismissal as requested. (Dkt. # 152).

1 On April 9, 2018, Plaintiffs moved to certify a class of all purchasers in California of 2 Canada Dry between December 28, 2012 and the present, except for purposes of resale. (Dkt.
3 #180.) In support of the motion, plaintiffs presented expert testimony regarding the results of the 4 survey as well as the damages analysis. Defendants opposed the motion (Dkt. #184), and filed a 5 motion to strike the class certification reports of Plaintiffs' survey and damages experts. (Dkt. # 6 185). Plaintiffs opposed Defendants' motion to strike. (Dkt. #193.) On June 26, 2018, the Court
7 denied the motion to strike, granted class certification, and appointed GSLLP and the Margarian
8 Law Firm Class Counsel (Dkt. #199.) Defendants applied to the United States Court of Appeals 9 for the Ninth Circuit for permission to appeal from the order of class certification. Plaintiffs 10 opposed the application, and the Ninth Circuit denied it.

11 After class certification, Plaintiffs retained and worked with two additional experts to 12 prepare reports: a flavor scientist who was also a certified nutritionist, and a marketing professor.
13 Plaintiffs produced each of their five experts for deposition and also deposed Defendants' five 14 opposing experts on the same subjects. Additional motion practice ensued when Defendants 15 presented supplemental expert reports, leading to second depositions of two defense experts.

16 On August 15, 2018, the parties participated in mediation with Robert Meyer at JAMS in 17 Los Angeles, California. (Dkt. #220; Meyer Decl. ¶ 4.) Prior to and at the mediation, GSLLP
18 stated that no settlement was possible unless Defendants agreed to stop using the unmodified 19 phrase "Made from Real Ginger" in their labeling and marketing. GSLLP proposed that 20 Defendants could be permitted to use the words "real ginger" only if accompanied by the words 21 "flavor" or "extract." Defendants did not agree to Plaintiffs' settlement proposals, and no 22 settlement was reached.

23 On September 7, 2018, Defendants moved for summary judgment on the ground that no
24 reasonable consumer could be misled by the phrase "Made from Real Ginger." (Dkt. #226.)
25 Defendants simultaneously moved to strike reports of several of Plaintiffs' experts. (Dkt. #225) 26 Plaintiff opposed both motions, proffering three theories of how the Canada Dry label was 27 misleading. (Dkt. #235, 237.) On November 2, 2018, the Court granted summary judgment in part 28 as to one of Plaintiffs' three theories of deception and denied summary judgment as to others.

1 (Dkt. #261.) The court also granted in part and denied in part Defendants' motion to strike, 2 striking the testimony of Plaintiffs' marketing expert, but permitting the remainder of Plaintiffs'
3 experts to testify. (Dkt. #260.)

4 After summary judgment, the parties began trial preparations. On November 21, 2018, 5 Plaintiffs and Defendants filed a joint pretrial statement, including witness lists (Dkt. #285), 6 exhibit lists (Dkt. #282), discovery designations (Dkt. #281), proposed voir dire (Dkt. #288) and a 7 motion to appoint additional counsel for trial (Dkt. #284). In addition, Plaintiffs submitted joint 8 proposed jury instructions and verdict forms to the Court. All items required extensive negotiation 9 and coordination between the parties as well as legal research. (Dkt. #272.) On November 27, 10 2018, the parties filed their motions in limine, and on November 30, 2018 the parties filed 11 responses to the opposing motions. The court issued its order granting and denying the motions in 12 limine on December 10, 2018. A jury trial is set to begin on January 9, 2018.

13 2. Webb Case in Missouri

14 As noted above, this Court denied the bid by the Faruqi law firm to be appointed interim 15 lead counsel and instead appointed GSLLP to that role for the nationwide class. The Faruqi firm 16 responded by dismissing its California case as noted above and by filing a new case on July 27, 17 2017 on behalf of a proposed nationwide class in the United States District Court for the Western 18 District of Missouri entitled Arnold E. Webb, v. Dr. Pepper Snapple Group, Inc., et al., Case No.
19 4:17-00624-CV-RK. On September 27, 2017, Defendants moved to dismiss the Webb case for 20 failure to state a claim; that motion was denied on April 25, 2018. In January 2018, GSLLP
21 retained co-counsel in Missouri to assist with possible intervention and agreed to pay all its fees
22 out-of-pocket. On January 18, 2018, GSLLP, with the assistance of local counsel, moved on behalf 23 of its California clients to intervene in and stay Webb, in light of the first-filed rule and the 24 California court's interim lead counsel order. While that motion was pending, on April 9, 2018, 25 Plaintiffs in the California action limited their motion for class certification to a California class.
26 On April 26, 2018, The Missouri court denied the motion to intervene as untimely. On June 20, 27 2018, the Webb case was settled on an individual basis and dismissed with prejudice.
28

1                                   3.       GSLLP’s Massachusetts and New York Cases for Proposed 49-2                                   State Class

3                                   On June 30, 2018, or four days after the California class was certified, GSLLP commenced
4 a putative class action on behalf of Plaintiff Samuel Fisher and purchasers in Massachusetts
5 against Defendants in the District of Massachusetts. (Fisher v. Keurig Dr Pepper, No. 18-cv-6 11381-MLW (D. Mass) (“Fisher”) Dkt. #1.) On July 11, 2018, GSLLP and its co-counsel 7 DeBenedictis & DeBenedictis LLC, commenced a putative class action on behalf of Plaintiff Julie 8 Fletcher and purchasers of Canada Dry Ginger Ale in New York against Defendants in the 9 Western District of New York. (Fletcher v. Keurig Dr Pepper, No. 18-cv-00766-EAW 10 (W.D.N.Y.) (“Fletcher”) Dkt. #1.) On August 8, 2018, GSLLP filed an amended complaint in 11 Fisher adding Plaintiffs Kacie Lagun, Micah Burdick, Scott Miller, Leroy Jacobs (“Plaintiffs”)
12 and a putative 49-state class of all states other than California. (Dkt. #14.)

13                                   On August 31, 2018, Defendants moved to dismiss Fletcher’s complaint in New York.
14 (Fletcher Dkt. #15.) Plaintiffs opposed the motion. At oral argument on October 24, the New York 15 Court indicated that it intended to deny the motion but it has not yet issued a written ruling.

16                                   On August 31, 2018, Defendants moved to dismiss Plaintiffs’ amended complaint in 17 Massachusetts and to strike all national class allegations. (Dkt. #18.) Plaintiffs opposed the motion 18 and pointed out that Keurig Dr Pepper is headquartered in Massachusetts. Defendants sought leave 19 to file a reply brief. The Massachusetts Court has not yet ruled on Defendants’ motion for leave to 20 file a reply, nor on the underlying motion to dismiss and strike.

21                                   4.       Other Non-GSLLP Cases And Proposed 49-State Class
22                                   Settlement

23                                   After GSLLP had obtained class certification in California (on June 26, 2018) and filed its 24 additional cases in Massachusetts and New York (on June 30 and July 11, 2018, respectively), 25 several other law firms unaffiliated with GSLLP filed copycat cases in four state courts on behalf 26 of single-state classes. On July 20, 2018, Plaintiff Heather Erwin filed a lawsuit against 27 Defendants on behalf of an Illinois-only class in the Circuit Court of St. Clair County, Illinois. On 28 July 25, 2018, Julie George filed a lawsuit against Defendants on behalf of a Missouri-only class in the Circuit Court for the State of Missouri. On July 5, 2018, Plaintiff Janet Childers filed a lawsuit against Defendants on behalf of a Texas-only class in the District Court of Tarrant County,

1 Texas. And on July 30, 2018, Frank Levitt filed a lawsuit against Defendants on behalf of a 2 Florida-only class in the Circuit Court of Broward County, Florida.

3       Upon learning of the cases, GSLLP immediately sought copies of all the filings in the 4 copycat cases and information from Defendants about their status. Defendants informed GSLLP
5 that all the complaints had been voluntarily dismissed between August 27 and September 28, 2018 6 and that no consideration had been given in exchange for the dismissals. Defendants failed to 7 inform GSLLP, however, that it had secretly engaged in mediation with the law firms representing 8 the copycat plaintiffs in September 2018, using a different JAMS mediator, former U.S. District 9 Judge Wayne Andersen.

10       After the mediation, and again without notice to GSLLP, the four copycat lawsuits were 11 refiled as a consolidated complaint in the Illinois court on October 29, 2018, on behalf of a 12 proposed 49-state class. Without notice to GSLLP, the lawyers for the copycat plaintiffs and 13 Defendants then had further settlement discussions and reached a settlement under which the 14 Illinois case would be voluntarily dismissed and a consolidated complaint would instead be filed in 15 the Missouri state court on behalf of a 49-state class. Under the settlement, Defendants would 16 agree to make the label changes that had originally been proposed by GSLLP in the August 2018 17 mediation in California. Defendants would also agree to provide refunds to class members as 18 described above. Ironically, the refund structure was modeled on a GSLLP settlement in two other 19 cases in this Court before Judges Seeborg and Gonzales-Rogers—down to the same fonts and 20 footnotes. On December 11, again without notice to GSLLP, the four lawsuits were again refiled 21 in the Missouri court, simultaneously with filing the proposed 49-state settlement and motion for 22 preliminary approval. The proposed settlement provides for payment of fees and costs to the 23 lawyers for the copycat plaintiffs of up to $1.2 million, even though those lawyers did nothing 24 other than copy GSLLP's work.

25       GSLLP did not learn of the new case or the settlement until Defendants informed the 26 California Court on December 19 that, earlier the same day, the Missouri court had entered an 27 order of preliminary approval. On December 20, 2018, Defendants moved to stay proceedings in 28 New York pending approval of a proposed 49-state class settlement. (Fletcher Dkt. #30.)

1 Defendants filed a similar motion in Massachusetts on December 26. (Fisher Dkt. #30.) The New 2 York court ordered Fletcher to respond to the motion by January 9. (Fletcher Dkt. #31.) The 3 opposition to the motion in the Massachusetts Fisher case is due January 10.

4 After GSSLP learned of the proposed 49-State Settlement, it retained co-counsel in 5 Missouri to assist with possible intervention and objections to the settlement and GSSLP agreed to 6 pay that firm's fees out-of-pocket. GSSLP also researched the authority of the federal courts in 7 Massachusetts, New York and California to stay the Missouri state court action. In addition, 8 GSSLP researched its entitlement to fees as the "catalyst" for the injunctive relief and monetary 9 benefits to be obtained in the 49-State Settlement. Finally, GSSLP communicated with the two 10 JAMS mediators, Robert Meyer and Judge Wayne Andersen. A series of mediated negotiations 11 followed, which led to agreements to settle the California action on behalf of the certified 12 California class and to settle the Massachusetts and New York actions on an individual basis.
13 (Meyer Decl. ¶¶ 5-8.)

14 C. The Benefits Conferred on the Certified Class Under the Proposed 15 Settlement of this Action

16 The proposed settlement agreement ("Settlement") resolves claims between KDP and the 17 certified class of "all persons (other than Excluded Persons) who, between December 28, 2012 and 18 June 26, 2018, purchased, in California, any Product." (Dkt. #325 ("Settlement") ¶ 2.15.)
19 "Product" is defined as any Canada Dry ginger ale product. (Id. ¶ 2.43 and Ex. C.) Excluded 20 Persons are (a) all Persons who purchased or acquired the Product for resale; (b) Keurig Dr Pepper
21 Inc., f/k/a Dr Pepper Snapple Group, Inc., Dr Pepper/Seven Up, Inc., and their directors, officers, 22 employees, principals, affiliated entities, legal representatives, successors and assigns; (c) any 23 Person who files a valid, timely Opt-Out request; (d) federal, state, and local governments 24 (including all agencies and subdivisions thereof, but excluding employees thereof); and (e) the 25 Honorable Nathanael Cousins, the Honorable Wayne R. Andersen (Ret.) of JAMS, Robert A.
26 Meyer of JAMS, and any members of either of their immediate families. (Id. ¶ 2.15.) Under the 27 Settlement Agreement, Class Members (except any such Person who has filed a proper any timely 28 request for exclusion from the Class), will agree to release all claims regarding the labeling, advertising, or formulation of the Products. (Id. ¶ 9.2.)

1. Changed Practices

1 KDP will agree to a Permanent Injunction barring the phrase “Made from Real Ginger” in 2 any Labeling of the Products. (Settlement ¶ 3.1.) KDP shall be permitted, at their option, to use
3 any of the following phrases in the Labeling of the Products: “ginger,” “real ginger,” or “natural 4 ginger,” in combination with one of the following three words in the same typeface and size (or in 5 the case of audio, same volume and speed): “taste,” “extract,” or “flavor.” (Id. ¶ 3.2.) For 6 example, the words “taste,” “extract,” or “flavor” may be used in the same typeface and size (and 7 volume and speed), preceding, or following, the words “ginger,” “real ginger,” or “natural ginger.”
8 (Id.)

2. Monetary Relief

10 Class members can file a claim for a cash payment of forty cents ($0.40) for each Product 11 purchased during the Class Period (i.e., between December 28, 2012 and June 26, 2018,), with a 12 guaranteed minimum payment for any class member who submits a Valid Claim of $2.00. (Id. ¶ 13 4.4.) A maximum of $40.00 (i.e., up to 100 purchases) shall be paid to any Household for claimed 14 purchases corroborated with Proof of Purchase. (Id.) A maximum of $5.20 (i.e., up to 13 15 purchases) shall be paid to any Household for claimed purchases that are not corroborated by 16 Proof of Purchase. (Id.) The amount paid to individual claimants does not depend on the number 17 of claims submitted, the cost of notice or administration, the amount paid in cost or fees, or any 18 amounts paid to Plaintiffs—all of which are borne by KDP. (Id. ¶¶ 4.10-4.11.)

19 The claim form is simple. The form can be completed online or downloaded and submitted 20 by mail, and is designed to be completed in minutes. (Id., ¶¶ 4.1-4.3.) It requires no purchase 21 details other than the name and number of Products purchased and approximate month(s) and 22 year(s) of purchase. (Id.)

23 There is no cap on the total number of claims that can be submitted and no pro-rata 24 reduction. However, given the simplicity of the claim form and the fact that claims can be 25 submitted with no proof of purchase, KDP may terminate the settlement should more than one 26 million Valid Claims be filed (without reference to dollar value). (Id. ¶ 13.1.) It is estimated that 27 there are only 2.3 million Class members (Gutride Decl., ¶ 51) and that the likely number of 28 claims based on typical claim rates is around 100,000 (Gutride Decl., ¶ 62; Finnegan Decl., ¶ 36),

1 so the receipt of more than 1 million Valid Claims could be evidence of such fraud. Further, by 2 using a termination provision instead of a cap, valid claims will not be subject to pro-rata
3 reductions in order to pay fraudulent claims. The proposed settlement notices inform class 4 members that if the settlement does not become final or is terminated, then the litigation will 5 continue on behalf of the certified class. (Settlement Ex. ¶ B1.)

6 3. Administrative Expenses, Attorneys' Fees and Costs, 7 Representative Service Awards

8 All costs of notice and administration of the Settlement will be paid by KDP. (Id. ¶ 8.1.)
9 There is a cap on such costs of $750,000; the settlement administrator has stated that this amount 10 should be sufficient to cover the required notice and claim administration. (Id. ¶ 8.2.) These costs
11 are reasonable in light of the need to reach all class members and process the claims. The parties 12 propose that Heffler Claims Group serve as the Settlement Administrator. (Id. ¶ 2.51.) The 13 additional information required by N.D. Cal. Procedural Guidance for Class Action Settlements 14 ("N.D. Cal. Guide") ¶ 2 regarding the selection of the settlement administrator is provided in the 15 Gutride Declaration. (Gutride Decl., ¶ 61.)

16 In addition, the Settlement provides for a Class Representative Service Award from KDP 17 of $5,000 per Class Representative. (Settlement ¶ 6.2-6.3.) Plaintiffs provided assistance that 18 enabled Class Counsel to successfully prosecute this Litigation and reach a settlement, including 19 locating and forwarding responsive documents and information, responding to written discovery, 20 sitting for a full-day deposition (and in the case of Mr. Margaryan, an additional half-day 21 deposition), and preparing testimony for trial. (Gutride Decl., ¶¶ 59-60.) The Service Award is 22 designed to compensate the Class Representatives for (1) the time and effort undertaken in and 23 risks of pursuing this action (including the risk of liability for the costs of suit) and (2) because 24 they are agreeing to a release broader than the one that will bind settlement class members.
25 (Settlement ¶ 9.1.)

26 Class Counsel also requests an award of Attorneys' Fees and Costs of $2,250,000. (Id., ¶ 27 6.1.) Even when combined with the additional payment they will receive in connection with the 28 Massachusetts and New York case, the amount will reimburse them for less than 60% of their total lodestar and expenses. (Gutride Decl., ¶¶ 72, 74.) These amounts are disclosed in the proposed 1 notices. (Id., Exs. B1, B3, B5.) The reasonableness of this request is discussed in Section E, infra.

2 D. Approval of the Settlement

3 1. Legal Framework

4 Strong judicial policy favors settlement of class actions. See Class Plaintiffs v. City of 5 Seattle, 955 F.2d 1269, 1276 (9th Cir. 1992); Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 6 1238 (9th Cir. 1998). Settlements of complex cases greatly contribute to the efficient utilization of 7 scarce judicial resources and achieve the speedy resolution of justice. “The claims, issues, or 8 defenses of a certified class may be settled . . . only with the court’s approval.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
9 23(e). A decision “to approve or reject a settlement is committed to the sound discretion of the trial 10 judge because [s]he is exposed to the litigants, and their strategies, positions, and proof.” In re 11 Mego Fin. Corp, 213 F. 3d 454, 458 (9th Cir. 2000). The Court must consider whether the 12 settlement as a whole is reasonable; it stands or falls in its entirety. See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 13 150 F.3d 1101, 1026 (9th Cir. 1998) (“Hanlon”). In addition, Rule 23(e) “requires the district court 14 to determine whether a proposed settlement is fundamentally fair, adequate, and reasonable.” Id. at 15 1026. Under Ninth Circuit precedent, the district court must balance a number of factors including:

16 the strength of the plaintiffs’ case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely 17 duration of further litigation; the risk of maintaining class action status throughout 18 the trial; the amount offered in settlement; the extent of discovery completed and 19 the stage of the proceedings; the experience and views of counsel; the presence of 20 a governmental participant; and the reaction of the class members to the proposed 21 settlement.

22 Id. Recent amendments to Rule 23 similarly require the district court to consider whether:

- 23 (A) the class representatives and class counsel have adequately represented the class;
- 24 (B) the proposal was negotiated at arm’s length;
- 25 (C) the relief provided for the class is adequate, taking into account:
  - 26 (i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal;
  - 27 (ii) the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class,
including the method of processing class-member claims;
  - 28 (iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, including timing of payment; and
  - (iv) any agreement required to be identified under Rule 23(e)(3); and
- (D) the proposal treats class members equitably relative to each other.

1 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2). The Court should apply “the framework set forth in Rule 23, while 2 continuing to draw guidance from the Ninth Circuit’s factors and relevant precedent.” Hefler v.
3 Wells Fargo & Co., No. 16-cv-05479-JST, 2018 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 213045, at *13 (N.D. Cal. Dec.
4 17, 2018).

5 2. Adequacy of Notice

6 The proposed notice plan and claim form, which are attached to the Settlement as Exhibits 7 B1, B3, B4, and B5, comport with the procedural and substantive requirements of Rule 23 and the 8 N.D. Cal. Guide. Under Rule 23, due process requires that class members receive notice of the 9 settlement using the best notice that is “practicable under the circumstances.” See Fed. R. Civ. P.
10 23(c)(2)(B). The mechanics of the notice process are left to the discretion of the Court, subject 11 only to the broad “reasonableness” standards imposed by due process. See 7A Wright & Miller, 12 FEDERAL PRACTICE & PROCEDURE § 1786 (3d ed. 2008); see also Rosenburg v. I.B.M., No. CV-13 06-00430-PJH 2007, 2007 WL 128232 at *5 (N.D. Cal. 2007) (notice should inform class 14 members of essential terms of settlement including claims procedure and their rights to accept, 15 object or opt-out of settlement); N.D. Cal. Guide ¶¶ 3-5 (identifying information to be included in 16 notice). In this Circuit, it has long been the case that a notice of settlement will be adjudged 17 satisfactory if it “generally describes the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those 18 with adverse viewpoints to investigate and to come forward and be heard.” Churchill, 361 F.3d 19 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004) (citing Mendoza v. Tucson Sch. Dist. No.1, 623 F.3d 1338, 1352 (9th Cir.
20 1980)). The proposed Notice Plan satisfies these content requirements and is designed to reach a 21 high percentage of the Settlement Class.

22 Notice of the settlement is to be provided to the Settlement Class as follows: (1) via 23 publication of a one-half page ad in People magazine (circulation of 3,031,829 with approximately 24 33,926,000 readers of the print edition) and a one-half page ad in Good Housekeeping magazine 25 (circulation of 4,101,000 with approximately 18,536,000 readers of the print edition); (2) a press 26 release issued through PR News Wire’s USA 1 network; (3) a total of 37,800,000 impressions of 27 the Online Notice targeted at likely class members that are served across a whitelist of 3,000 28 internet sites and via social media; (4) a sponsored blog/newsletter post on

1 www.topclassactions.com; (5) Email Notice via electronic mail to each Class Member for which 2 KDP has provided an email address; and (6) mailed notice to each Class Member for which KDP
3 has provided a mailing address but not an email address. (Settlement Ex. B2.)

4 The proposed notices inform class members about the proposed settlement; a summary of 5 settlement benefits; their right to opt out and the information required by N.D. Cal. Guide ¶ 4
6 regarding opt outs; their right to object and the information required by N.D. Cal. Guide ¶ 5 7 regarding objections; the need to file a claim; and the prospective request for attorneys' fees, costs
8 and representative service awards. The published notices refer class members to the settlement 9 website where they can obtain the long-form notice, which provides more details about the case
10 and the settlement, online and printable versions of the claim form and the opt out forms, a fuller 11 discussion of the release, and methods to obtain additional information. In addition, the settlement 12 website, will also shall contain a contact information page that will include address and telephone 13 numbers for the claim administrator and Class Counsel, the Settlement Agreement, the date of the 14 final approval hearing, the motions for approval and for attorneys' fees and any other important 15 documents in the case. Further, the administrator will provide a toll-free telephone number at 16 which class members can obtain information.

17 As explained in the declaration from the claim administrator filed herewith, this multi-18 communication method is expected to reach at least 74% of the settlement class members an 19 estimated average of 2.3 times each, and it is the best notice practicable. (Finnegan Decl., ¶¶ 3-4.)
20 See, e.g., Simpao v. Gov't of Guam, 369 F. App'x 837, 838 (9th Cir. 2010) (notice plan was "best 21 notice practicable" where direct notice was mailed to class members and supplemented by 22 published notice); In re Google Referrer Header Privacy Litig., No. 5:10-cv-04809, 2014 WL 23 1266091, *7 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 26, 2014) (where direct individual notice not practical, "publication 24 or something similar is sufficient to provide notice to the individuals that will be bound by the 25 judgment"); see also In re Tableware, 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1080 (N.D. Cal. 2007) (approving 26 settlement; holding that where defendants do not maintain complete lists of all class members, 27 notice via publication is "reasonable"); In re Netflix Privacy Litig., No. 5:11-cv-00379, 2012 WL 28 2598819, *5 (N.D. Cal. July 5, 2012) (approving notice procedure that included emailing

1 customers at last known email address, publication in People magazine, and advertising on 2 Facebook.com). In addition to publication, notice will be sent directly (via email or U.S. mail) to 3 potential class members as identified through KDP's customer service database records.

4 The Class Action Fairness Act requires that KDP give notice of the proposed class action 5 settlement to appropriate state and federal officials and supply all of the information and 6 documents set forth in 28 U.S.C. § 1715 (b)(1)-(8). KDP will do so within ten days after the 7 Settlement Agreement is filed with the Court. (Settlement Ex. B-2.)

8 3. Fairness, Adequacy, and Reasonableness of Settlement

9 (a) Procedural Concerns

10 The Court must consider whether “the class representatives and class counsel have 11 adequately represented the class” and whether “the proposal was negotiated at arm’s length.” Fed.
12 R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(A)-(B). As the Advisory Committee notes suggest, these are “matters that 13 might be described as ‘procedural’ concerns, looking to the conduct of the litigation and of the 14 negotiations leading up to the proposed settlement.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(A)-(B) advisory 15 committee’s note to 2018 amendment. These concerns implicate factors such as the non-collusive 16 nature of the negotiations, as well as the extent of discovery completed and stage of the 17 proceedings. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026.

18 i. Adequate Representation of the Class

19 In granting class certification, the Court concluded that the Class Representatives and Class 20 Counsel were adequate. Doc. 199 at 25. This remains true. The Class Representatives have “no 21 conflicts of interest” (id.) and have invested significant time and resources in this litigation for 22 more than two years. Class Counsel have “successfully represented numerous plaintiff classes, 23 involving a variety of claims, in state and federal courts throughout the country” (Doc. 180 at 19) 24 and have “effectively” represented the class interests in this case (Doc. 199 at 25).

25 ii. Arm’s Length Negotiations

26 The Ninth Circuit “put[s] a good deal of stock in the product of an arm’s-length, non-27 collusive, negotiated resolution” in approving a class action settlement. Rodriguez v. West Publ’g 28 Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th Cir. 2009). Class settlements are presumed fair when they are

1 reached “following sufficient discovery and genuine arms-length negotiation,” both of which 2 occurred here. See Nat’l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 (C.D.
3 Cal. 2004) (“DIRECTV”); 4 Newberg at § 11.24. “The extent of discovery [also] may be relevant
4 in determining the adequacy of the parties’ knowledge of the case.” DIRECTV, 221 F.R.D. at 527
5 (quoting Manual for Complex Litigation, Third § 30.42 (1995)). “A court is more likely to approve 6 a settlement if most of the discovery is completed because it suggests that the parties arrived at a 7 compromise based on a full understanding of the legal and factual issues surrounding the case.”
8 DIRECTV, 221 F.R.D. at 527 (quoting 5 Moore’s Federal Practice, §23.85[2][e] (Matthew Bender 9 3d ed.)).

10 Here, before agreeing upon the terms of the settlement, the parties engaged in extensive 11 factual and expert investigation, which included twenty-two fact and expert depositions, document 12 production of over 200,000 pages of documents, interrogatories, and third-party discovery. Gutride 13 Decl. ¶¶ 11-16. The parties also had undertaken extensive briefing and argument on various 14 significant legal issues, including in connection with two motions to dismiss, class certification, a 15 motion for summary judgment, and preparations for the jury trial. See Section B, supra. In 16 addition, Plaintiff Ms. Fitzhenry-Russell and her counsel have experience in other ginger ale 17 litigation, which has further informed their views about the claims in this case. The record was 18 thus sufficiently developed that the parties were fully informed as to the viability of the claims and 19 able to adequately evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of their respective positions and risks to 20 both sides if the case did not settle. Gutride Decl., ¶ 44.

21 The parties negotiated the proposed settlement in good faith with the assistance of two 22 independent, experienced mediators, the Honorable Wayne R. Andersen (Ret.) of JAMS and 23 Robert A. Meyer of JAMS. Gutride Decl., ¶ 46; Meyer Decl. ¶¶ 4-8. “The assistance of an 24 experienced mediator in the settlement process confirms that the settlement is non-collusive.”
25 Adams v. Inter-Con Sec. Sys. Inc., No. C-06-5428 MHP, 2007 WL 3225466, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Oct.
26 30, 2007).

27 (b) Substantive Concerns

28 Rule 23(e)(2)(C) and (D) set forth factors for conducting “a ‘substantive’ review of the 1 terms of the proposed settlement.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(C)-(D) advisory committee’s note to 2 2018 amendment. In determining whether “the relief provided for the class is adequate,” the Court 3 must consider “(i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal; (ii) the effectiveness of any 4 proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including the method of processing class-5 member claims; (iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, including timing of 6 payment; and (iv) any agreement required to be identified under Rule 23(e)(3).” Fed. R. Civ. P.

7 23(e)(2)(C). In addition, the Court must consider whether “the proposal treats class members 8 equitably relative to each other.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(D).

9 i. Strength of Plaintiffs’ Case and Risk of Continuing 10 Litigation

11 Consistent with Rule 23’s instruction to consider “the costs, risks, and delay of trial and 12 appeal,” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(C)(i), courts in this circuit evaluate “the strength of the plaintiffs’ 13 case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; [and] the risk of 14 maintaining class action status throughout the trial,” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026. Generally, the 15 principal risks to be assessed are the difficulties and complexities of proving liability and damages.
16 See, e.g., Mego, 213 F.3d at 458-59 (assessing risk of inability to prove fraudulent scheme in 17 affirming settlement); Linney v. Cellular Alaska Partnership, 151 F.3d at 1240-1241 (9th Cir.
18 1998) (assessing risks involving fraudulent concealment and ability to obtain damages in affirming 19 settlement); Torrisi v. Tucson Electric Power Co., 8 F.3d 1370, 1376 (9th Cir. 1993), cert denied, 20 512 U.S. 1220 (1994) (approving settlement based in part on “inherent risks of litigation”); Class 21 Plaintiffs, 955 F.2d at 1292 (approving settlement based on uncertainty of claims and avoidance of 22 summary judgment); Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 23 625 (9th Cir. 1982, cert denied, 495 U.S. 1217 (1983) (approving settlement based in part on the 24 possibility that a judgment after a trial, when discounted, might not reward class members for their 25 patience and the likely delay reflected in the “track record” for large class actions).

26 In considering whether to enter into the Settlement, Plaintiffs, represented by counsel 27 experienced in food labeling litigation, weighed the risks inherent in establishing all the elements 28 of their claims in a jury trial, as well as the expense of trial and likely duration of post-trial motions and appeals. Plaintiffs agreed to settle this litigation on these terms based on their careful

1 investigation and evaluation of the facts and law relating to Plaintiffs’ allegations and 2 consideration of the facts and views expressed by the mediator and KDP during the settlement 3 negotiations. See Louie v. Kaiser Found. Health Plan, Inc., No. 08-cv-0795, 2008 WL 4473183, at 4 *6 (S.D. Cal. Oct. 6, 2008) (“Class counsels’ extensive investigation, discovery, and research 5 weighs in favor of preliminary settlement approval.”).

6 Plaintiffs and Class Counsel were aware that, in order to prevail at trial, they would have to 7 prove not only that KDP’s “Made From Real Ginger” representation was misleading, but that 8 those statements were material; that consumers relied on the misrepresentation; the representation
9 caused injuries; that there were recoverable damages for the Class; and in order to obtain punitive 10 damages, that KDP’s conduct constituted fraud, oppression, or malice. Although Plaintiffs believe 11 the evidence obtained in discovery established KDP’s liability and damages, KDP vigorously 12 denies those allegations, creating substantial uncertainty of obtaining a successful verdict after trial 13 and appeal. Among other things, KDP disputed that the “Made from Real Ginger” claim was 14 misleading or material to a reasonable consumer in that the phrase was literally true and regardless 15 was not important to the consumer decision-making. Further, KDP criticized Plaintiffs’ consumer 16 understanding and materiality surveys as flawed and unreliable. Plaintiffs also faced substantial 17 challenges in establishing the amount of class-wide damages. KDP argues that the conjoint model 18 Plaintiffs used to calculate damages makes unsupportable assumptions that are contradicted by the 19 facts and are not reliable. In particular, KDP asserted that its products are line priced and that the 20 pricing of Canada Dry is unaffected by the “Made From Real Ginger” claim.

21 While Class Counsel are confident in their positions and believe Plaintiffs’ claims are 22 strong, Class Counsel are also experienced and realistic enough to know that the recovery and 23 certainty achieved through settlement, as opposed to the uncertainty inherent in the trial and 24 appellate process, weighs heavily in favor of settlement, particularly given the above risks, which 25 could easily have impeded Plaintiffs’ successful prosecution at trial and in an eventual appeal.
26 Gutride Decl., ¶¶ 54-57. Under the circumstances, Plaintiffs and Class Counsel appropriately 27 determined that the instant settlement outweighs the gamble of continued litigation. Id. Moreover, 28 even if Plaintiffs prevailed at trial, any recovery could be delayed for years by an appeal. Id. Thus,

1 even in the best case, it could take years to secure any meaningful relief for class members. See 2 Lipuma v. American Express Company, 406 F. Supp. 2d 1298, 1322 (S.D. Fla. 2005) (likelihood 3 that appellate proceedings could delay class recovery “strongly favor[s]” approval of a settlement).

4 Further, a comparison of the settlement award to the potential damages that might be 5 recovered for the Class at trial, given the risks of the litigation, supports the reasonableness of the 6 Settlement. See N.D. Cal. Guide ¶1(d) (preliminary approval motion should set forth “potential 7 recovery if plaintiffs were to prevail” and “likely recovery per plaintiff” under the settlement).
8 Plaintiffs’ expert opined that price premium damages total approximately $10.8 million, or an 9 average of $0.09 per product. Gutride Decl., ¶¶ 50, 51. Even after trial, class members would have 10 to make claims because they cannot otherwise be identified. See Briseno v. ConAgra Foods, Inc., 11 844 F.3d 1121, 1131-32 (9th Cir. 2017) (“Rule 23 specifically contemplates the need for such 12 individualized claim determinations after a finding of liability.”). The settlement amount per 13 product is much higher and there is no reason to believe the post-trial claim rate would exceed a 14 settlement claim rate.<sup>3</sup> Additionally, there is substantial value to KDP’s changed practices (i.e.
15 removing the “Made From Real Ginger” phrase from its Canada Dry Labeling). This is a very 16 favorable outcome given the substantial risks of continuing with this complex litigation, and the 17 uncertainty inherent in a jury trial, as well as the advantages of obtaining an immediate cash 18 benefit for Class Members and avoiding the substantial expenses of further litigation.

19 The Settlement release is no broader than a res judicata release that would be obtained after 20 trial. It releases only claims that were or could have been asserted regarding labeling, advertising

23 only a fraction of the potential recovery that might be available to the class members at trial.”

of the maximum recoverable damages ... equals or surpasses the recovery in many other securities class actions”); In re Omnivision Technologies, Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1042 (N.D. Cal. 2008) (settlement representing 9% of maximum damages fair and reasonable and “higher than the median percentage of investor losses recovered in recent shareholder class action settlements”).

1 and product formulation—the very issues in suit. See Allied Fire Prot. v. Diede Constr., Inc., 127
2 Cal. App. 4th 150, 155 (2005) (“Res judicata serves as a bar to all causes of action that were 3 litigated or that could have been litigated in the first action.”); see also In re Anthem, Inc. Data
4 Breach Litig., 327 F.R.D. 299, 327 (N.D. Cal. 2018) (“the Ninth Circuit allows federal courts to 5 release not only those claims alleged in the complaint, but also claims ‘based on the identical 6 factual predicate as that underlying the claims in the settled class action.’”) (quoting Hesse v.
7 Sprint Corp., 598 F.3d 581, 590 (9th Cir. 2010)). Claims relating to “personal injury or property 8 damage arising out of the use of the Product” are specifically excluded from the release.

9 ii. Effectiveness of Distribution Method

10 The Court must consider “the effectiveness of [the] proposed method of distributing relief 11 to the class.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2)(C)(ii). Class Members who seek benefits under the 12 Settlement must only to submit a relatively simple claim form with basic questions about class
13 membership. As KDP is a wholesaler and has no records of Class Member purchases, a claim form 14 is required to identify class members and their eligible purchases. The form can be completed 15 online, or class members have the option to print and mail the claim form to the claim 16 administrator. Settlement ¶¶ 4.1-4.3 and Ex. A. Payments will be made by check and mailed. Id.
17 This procedure is claimant-friendly, efficient, cost-effective, proportional and reasonable. Pursuant 18 to N.D. Guide ¶1(g), Class Counsel estimate, based on their experiences with recent settlements in 19 other food labeling cases and the input of the claims administrator, 100,000 class members will 20 submit a claim. Gutride Decl., ¶ 62; Finnegan Decl., ¶ 36.

21 iii. Terms of Attorneys’ Fees

22 Class Counsel seeks an award of attorneys’ fees and costs for all Class Counsel in an 23 amount of $2,250,000. That request is addressed in Section E, infra.

24 iv. Supplemental Agreements

25 Rule 23(e)(3) requires identification of any “supplemental” agreements. As noted above, 26 Defendants have separately reached agreement with the plaintiffs in the New York and 27 Massachusetts actions that are being handled by the same Plaintiffs’ counsel, and agreed to pay a 28 separate attorneys’ fee in connection with that litigation. A copy of that agreement is attached as 1 Exhibit G to the Settlement and propriety is addressed in Section E, infra.

2 v. Equitable Treatment of Class Members

3 All class members are entitled to the same relief under the Settlement. This proposal is fair 4 and equitable because the $0.40 per product refund is far greater than the $0.09 average alleged 5 price premium per Product. Even though products may have been sold at different prices based on 6 size or retail location, the alleged premium is always 4% or 4.67%, and uniform relief makes it 7 unnecessary for claimants to testify how much they paid for each purchase and makes the 8 settlement administratively efficient. The Settlement also provides for a Service Award for the 9 Representative Plaintiffs, which is explained in Section F, infra.

10 vi. Counsel's Experience

11 Although not articulated as a separate factor in Rule 23(e), courts have given considerable 12 weight to the opinion of experienced and informed counsel who support settlement. See 13 DIRECTV, 221 F.R.D. at 528; see also In re NVIDIA Corp. Derivative Litig., No. C-06-06110-
14 SBA, 2008 WL 5382544 at *4 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 22, 2008); Kirkorian v. Borelli, 695 F. Supp. 446, 15 451 (N.D. Cal. 1988). In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement of a class action, 16 “[t]he recommendations of plaintiffs’ counsel should be given a presumption of reasonableness.”
17 Stewart v. Applied Materials, Inc., No. 15-cv-02632-JST, 2017 WL 3670711, at *6 (N.D. Cal.
18 Aug. 25, 2017); accord Omnivision, 559 F. Supp. 2d at 1043 (same). Here, Class Counsel came to 19 recommend this Settlement after over two years of hard-fought litigation, during which it 20 expended over 5741.8 hours, which includes extensive briefing on a variety of significant 21 contested legal issues and preparation for a jury trial. Gutride Decl. ¶¶ 2-41. KDP is also 22 represented by seasoned, class-action litigators who support the settlement. Id. ¶ 43.

23 vii. Past Distributions

24 The information requested by N.D. Cal. Guide ¶ 11 regarding past distributions in other 25 comparable class settlements is provided in the Gutride Declaration. Gutride Decl., ¶ 43 and Ex. 2.

E. Approval of the Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses.

1. Plaintiffs’ Fee Request is Reasonable Under the Lodestar Approach.

(a) Legal Standard

Plaintiffs request the payment of attorneys’ fees and expenses in the amount of $2,250,000, which is provided for in the Settlement Agreement separate and apart from the money made available to the class for purposes of claims payment and notice and administration expenses. Under Ninth Circuit standards, in cases such as this where the relief is primarily injunctive and there is a fee-shifting statute (California Civil Code § 1750 and California Code of Civil Procedure § 1021.5), it is appropriate for a District Court to analyze an attorneys’ fee request and issue an award based on the “lodestar” method. Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liability Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 941 (9th Cir. 2011). Plaintiffs’ fee request is reasonable under this approach as Class Counsel obtained both injunctive and monetary relief. Further, an attorney is entitled to “recover as part of the award of attorney’s fees those out-of-pocket that would normally be charged to a fee paying client.” Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir. 1994) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). To support an expense award, Plaintiffs should file an itemized list of their expenses by category, listing the total amount advanced for each category, allowing the Court to assess whether the expenses are reasonable. See Wren v. RGIS Inventory Specialists, No. 06-cv-05778-JCS, 2011 WL 1230826, at *30 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 2011); N.D. Cal. Guide ¶ 6.

(b) Analysis

Under the lodestar approach, “[t]he lodestar (or touchstone) is produced by multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended by counsel by a reasonable hourly rate.” Lealao v. Beneficial California, Inc., 82 Cal. App. 4th 19, 26 (2000); accord Kelly v. Wengler, 822 F.3d 1085, 1099 (9th Cir. 2016). Once the court has fixed the lodestar, it may increase or decrease that amount by applying a positive or negative (i.e. fractional) “multiplier to take into account a variety of other factors, including the quality of the representation, the novelty and complexity of the issues, the results obtained and the contingent risk presented.” Id.; see also Serrano v. Priest (“Serrano III”), 20 Cal. 3d 25, 48-49 (1977); Ramos v. Countrywide Home Loans, Inc. 82 Cal. App. 4th 615, 622 (2000); Beasley v. Wells Fargo Bank, 235 Cal. App. 3d 1407, 1418 (1991)

1 (multipliers are used to compensate counsel for the risk of loss, and to encourage counsel to 2 undertake actions that benefit the public interest).

3 Class Counsel's lodestar through the date of this application is approximately $407,611.95.
4 Gutride Decl., ¶ 72. Class Counsel's efforts to date included, without limitation:

- 5 • Pre-filing investigation;
- 6 • Drafting a class action complaint and three amended complaints;
- 7 • Opposing KDP's two motions to dismiss;
- 8 • Drafting numerous case management conference statements and stipulations;
- 9 • Meeting-and-conferring with KDP's counsel regarding the scope of discovery, the 10 sufficiency of discovery responses and production, the retention of electronic documents, 11 KDP's searches for electronically stored information, the terms and scope of a stipulated 12 protective order, and the timing of production and briefing numerous discovery disputes;
- 13 • Reviewing in excess of 200,000 pages of documents produced by KDP;

13 Class Counsel calculated their lodestar using Class Counsel’s regular billing rates, which 14 for the attorneys involved range from $425 to $975 per hour. Gutride Decl., ¶ 66; Margaryan
15 Decl., ¶ 12; Durie Decl., ¶ 6; and DeBenedictis Decl. ¶ 7. These hourly rates are equal to market 16 rates in San Francisco for attorneys of Class Counsel’s background and experience. Id.; see also In

20 dismissed (Oct. 30, 2015) (approving hourly rates of $475 to $975).<sup>4</sup> Each of the lawyers who did 21 substantive work on the case graduated from a top law school (Yale, Harvard, Boalt, NYU, 22 University of Texas, Northwestern); and the key players have at least 10 and in some cases 20 23 years of litigation experience. Gutride Decl., ¶ 69; Margaryan Decl., ¶ 14; Durie Decl., ¶ 15; and 24

25 <sup>4</sup> Plaintiffs’ Counsel has also calculated their lodestar using the rates provided in the Laffey 26 Matrix, which this Court has recognized is a “well-established objective source for rates that vary 27 by experience.” In re HPL Techs., Inc., Sec. Litig., 366 F. Supp. 2d 912, 921 (N.D. Cal. 2005).
28 After adjusting the rates, which are tailored for the District of Columbia, by approximately 8.6% for the Bay Area attorneys and 1.8% for the Los Angeles attorneys, as done by Judge Walker in In re HPL Techs., Inc., Sec. Litig., Plaintiffs’ Counsel’s total lodestar using the adjusted Laffey rates is $4,257,154.15. Gutride Decl., ¶ 72.

1 DeBenedictis Decl., Ex. 1.<sup>5</sup>

2 These rates are the current rates charged by Class Counsel, which is appropriate given the 3 deferred and contingent nature of counsel's compensation. See LeBlanc-Sternberg v. Fletcher, 143
4 F.3d 748, 764 (2nd Cir. 1998) (“[C]urrent rates, rather than historical rates, should be applied in 5 order to compensate for the delay in payment....”) (citing Missouri v. Jenkins, 491 U.S. 274, 283-6 84 (1989)); In re Washington Pub. Power Supply Sys. Sec. Litig., 19 F.3d 1291, 1305 (9th Cir.
7 1994) (“The district court has discretion to compensate delay in payment in one of two ways: 8 (1) by applying the attorneys’ current rates to all hours billed during the course of litigation; or 9 (2) by using the attorneys’ historical rates and adding a prime rate enhancement.”).

10 In any event, Class Counsel’s attorneys’ fee request of $1,842,388.05 ($2,250,000 minus 11 costs and expenses of $407,611.95, discussed infra), comes in well below the fee amount of 12 $4,364,398.50 calculated using the lodestar method. Even counting the additional $750,000 that 13 Class Counsel will receive in connection with the Massachusetts and New York action, the total
14 fee recovery will be $2,592,388.05.<sup>6</sup> Thus, far from any “upward” multiplier, Class Counsel’s 15 requested fee actually results in a fractional multiplier of .61, which further justifies the full 16 requested fee award. See, e.g., Schuchardt v. Law Office of Rory W. Clark, 314 F.R.D. 673, 690-91
17 (N.D. Cal. 2016) (holding negative lodestar multiplier to be indication of reasonableness of fee

18 _____
19 <sup>5</sup> Furthermore, it is almost certain the rates paid by KDP to its attorneys in this case far exceed the 20 rates requested for Class Counsel. See Managing Class Action Litigation: A Pocket Guide For 21 Judges § IV(F) (suggesting an examination of the defendant’s attorney fee records as a measure of 22 what might be reasonable). The billing rates are standard rates and/or have been recently approved 23 by other judges in this District. Gutride Decl., ¶¶ 67-68; Margarian Decl. ¶13; Durie Decl. ¶¶ 13-24 14; DeBenedictis Decl., ¶¶ 8, 13.

25 <sup>6</sup> The Court is not required under Rule 23(e)(5)(B) to approve of the New York and Massachusetts 26 Settlements or those Plaintiffs’ agreements to forego objecting to the 49-State Settlement. By its 27 terms, Rule 23(e)(5)(B) requires the Court only to approve of agreements to forego objections to 28 the settlement before the Court. The 49-State Settlement is not before this Court, nor is the individual settlement with the Massachusetts and New York Plaintiffs. Nevertheless, even if the Rule did apply, the Court should find the agreement reasonable. Defendants have agreed that Plaintiffs’ counsel’s work in bringing not only the California case, but also the New York and Massachusetts cases, as the catalyst for the 49-State Settlement. Under the agreements, the New York and Massachusetts named Plaintiffs are being treated the same as the named plaintiffs in the Missouri action, and their counsel is being compensated for their work as the catalyst for the benefits provided to the 49-State Settlement Class.

 2 170800 at *6 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 16, 2015) (finding where “Class Counsel’s lodestar exceeded the 3 negotiated award” to be “well within the range courts have allowed in the Ninth Circuit”); Lusby v.

 6 range found reasonable by other courts in California.”); Covillo v. Specialtys Café, No. C-11-7 00594 DMR, 2014 WL 954516, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 6, 2014) (“Plaintiffs’ requested fee award is 8 approximately 65% of the lodestar, which means that the requested fee award results in a so-9 called negative multiplier, suggesting that the percentage of the fund is reasonable and fair.”).

10 Class Counsel requests that, in addition to reasonable attorneys’ fees, the Court grant its 11 application for reimbursement of $407,611.95 in out-of-pocket expenses incurred by it in 12 connection with the prosecution of this litigation. Gutride Decl., ¶ 74. As required by the N.D. Cal.
 13 Guide ¶ 6, the expenses incurred are itemized in counsel’s declarations. Gutride Decl., ¶ 73 and 14 Ex. 3; Margaritan Decl., ¶ 17; Durie Decl., ¶ 18; and DeBenedictis Decl., ¶ 17 and Ex. 2. Here, 15 since the requested sum of $2,250,000 is inclusive of both attorneys’ fees and costs, should the 16 Court choose to calculate the two totals separately, it should subtract the $407,611.95 in costs 17 from that number and award $1,842,388.05 in attorneys’ fees.<sup>7</sup>

18 2. Plaintiffs’ Fee Request is Less Than Class Counsel Would 19 Recovery Under a Catalyst Theory.

20 Had the parties not reached this settlement, Class Counsel would have requested fees as the 21 catalyst for the injunctive and monetary relief obtained in the 49-State Settlement, which would 22 have supported an even larger fee award than the total being sought now. Section 1021.5 of the 23 California Code of Civil Procedure authorizes a court (including a federal court) to award 24 attorneys’ fees to a party who has achieved “the enforcement of an important right affecting the 25 public interest.” C.C.P. § 1021.5. To be eligible for a fee award pursuant to C.C.P. § 1021.5, a

26 _____
 27 <sup>7</sup> Should the Court deem any of the requested costs to not be reimbursable, Plaintiff requests that 28 the Court increase the attorneys’ fee award such that the net amount of $2,250,000 provided via the Settlement Agreement is awarded, as any increase to the attorneys’ fee award would still result in a significant negative lodestar multiplier and, therefore, be reasonable.

1 party need not win at summary judgment or trial. Rather, as the California Supreme Court has 2 explained, “The appropriate benchmarks in determining which party prevailed are (a) the situation 3 immediately prior to the commencement of suit, and (b) the situation today, and the role, if any,
4 played by the litigation in effecting any changes between the two.” Maria P. v. Riles, 43 Cal. 3d
5 1281, 1291 (1987) (internal citations omitted); accord MacDonald v. Ford Motor Co., No. 13-CV-6 02988-JST, 2015 WL 6745408, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 2, 2015). A plaintiff can be deemed 7 a prevailing party even without obtaining an injunction or similar judicially enforceable result, if 8 she was the “catalyst” for the desired result. See Tipton–Whittingham v. City of L.A., 316 F.3d
9 1058, 1062 (9th Cir.2003) (same), certified question answered, 34 Cal. 4th 604 (2004) (“California 10 law continues to recognize the catalyst theory and does not require ‘a judicially recognized change 11 in the legal relationship between the parties’ as a prerequisite for obtaining attorney fees under 12 Code of Civil Procedure section 1021.5.”); Graham v. DaimlerChrysler Corp., 34 Cal. 4th 553, 13 560-61 (2004), as modified (Jan. 12, 2005) (same); accord Skaff v. Meridien N. Am. Beverly Hills, 14 LLC, 506 F.3d 832, 844 (9th Cir. 2007).

15 In order to recovery attorneys’ fees under the catalyst theory, Plaintiffs must demonstrate: 16 “(1) that the lawsuit was a catalyst motivating the defendants to provide the primary relief sought; 17 (2) that the lawsuit had merit and achieved its catalytic effect by threat of victory, not by dint of 18 nuisance and threat of expense ... and (3) that the plaintiffs reasonably attempted to settle the 19 litigation prior to filing the lawsuit.” MacDonald v. Ford Motor Co., No. 13-CV-02988-JST, 2015 20 WL 6745408, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 2, 2015) (quoting Tipton–Whittingham v. City of Los Angeles, 21 34 Cal. 4th 604 *at 608 (2004)). Moreover, where settlement attempts would have been futile, or 22 “exigent circumstances [] required immediate resort to judicial process,” the duty to engage in pre-23 litigation settlement efforts is waived. See, e.g., Env’tl. Prot. Info. Ctr. v. California Dep’t of 24 Forestry & Fire Prot., 190 Cal. App. 4th 217, 237 (2010), as modified on denial of reh’g (Dec. 15, 25 2010); Cates v. Chiang, 213 Cal. App. 4th 791, 816 (2013) (“But because it is a judicially-created 26 rule to promote the purposes of section 1021.5 and deter attorneys from filing meritless suits 27 merely to obtain attorney fees, it should not be applied to bar an attorney fees recovery where to 28 do so would defeat the core purpose of the statute.”)

1 Plaintiffs must show that their suit was “a substantial causal factor” in the changed
2 conduct, but not necessarily the only factor. See Henderson v. J.M. Smucker Co., No. CV 10–
3 4524–GHK (VBKx), 2013 WL 3146774, at *4 (C.D. Cal. June 19, 2013) (quoting Graham, 34 4 Cal. 4th at 573). “[T]he chronology of events may raise an inference that the litigation was 5 the catalyst for the relief.” Hogar v. Cmty. Dev. Com. of City of Escondido, 157 Cal. App. 4th 6 1358, 1366 (2007). While Defendants may rebut that inference, courts should be “mindful that 7 ‘defendants, on the whole, are usually rather reluctant to concede that the litigation prompted them
8 to mend their ways.’” MacDonald, 2015 WL 6745408, at *4 (quoting Klamath Siskiyou Wildlands 9 Ctr. v. Babbitt, 105 F. Supp. 2d 1132, 1139 (D. Or. 2000)).

10 The facts here easily would have supported a fee award on the catalyst theory even if 11 Plaintiffs did not prevail at trial. Defendants concede that the work of Plaintiffs and Class Counsel 12 was the catalyst for the nationwide injunctive relief and the monetary benefits provided in the 49-13 state settlement. Settlement ¶ 6.5. Plaintiffs demanded the label changes at the outset of the suit in 14 a demand letter (Gutride Decl., Ex. 1), and again, in a mediation last summer (id. ¶ 24).
15 Defendants refused for over two years, before agreeing to the label changes in the 49-State 16 Settlement. That settlement requires Defendants to change their labeling and 17 marketing everywhere; it does not make any exception for labeling and marketing in California.
18 See Dkt. # 321-2, at Section III. Thus, even without a trial, California purchasers would have been 19 provided the new, improved labels and advertising.

20 Further, the Settlements’ use of a claims process for monetary relief is no different than 21 what would have happened after trial (see Section D.3.(b).i) and is exactly what was requested in 22 the CLRA demand served before the litigation (Gutride Decl Ex. 1), as the CLRA expressly 23 requires. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1782(d) (stating that no damages action may be maintained if after 24 notice to the Defendant, “(1) All consumers similarly situated have been identified, or a reasonable 25 effort to identify such other consumers has been made [and] (2) All consumers so identified have 26 been notified that upon their request the person shall make the appropriate correction, repair, 27 replacement, or other remedy of the goods and services.”) (emphasis supplied).

28

1 Defendants had ample earlier opportunity to settle these claims, as Plaintiffs waited five 2 months after sending the CLRA demand to add their monetary claims for Ms. Fitzhenry-Russell,
3 even though the CLRA only requires a wait of 30 days. See Cal. Civ. Code § 1782(d) and Dkt.#
4 42. And the lawsuits by Mr. Margaryan, as well as the Massachusetts and New York plaintiffs, 5 were not filed until six months and 1.5 years, respectively, after Ms. Fitzhenry-Russell’s first 6 CLRA settlement demand was made.<sup>8</sup>

7 Finally, although it is not necessary for Plaintiffs to show that they were the sole cause of 8 the changes, that is the case here. The settling plaintiffs and counsel who negotiated the 49-State
9 Settlement did nothing to prosecute the underlying litigation; they merely copied the complaints
10 that had been filed by the Plaintiffs, relied on the discovery obtained by Class Counsel in this case, 11 and settled using the injunctive relief that Plaintiffs had proposed at mediation last summer.
12 Gutride Decl. ¶¶ 35, 37. Even the 49-State Settlement documents themselves are copies of forms 13 prepared by Plaintiffs’ counsel in other cases—e.g., with identical section numbering and content, 14 font selection, and even footnotes—namely the Procter & Gamble “flushable wipes” settlement
15 now pending before Judge Seeborg, and the Salov olive oil settlement that was approved by Judge 16 Gonzales-Rogers. Id. ¶ 37.

17 In sum, Class Counsel would have been entitled to a fee award for all their work on this 18 case to date under the lodestar analysis set forth above, even in the absence of settlement. Class 19 Counsel could even have brought that motion for fees before trial, because they had already 20 prevailed on the primary relief being sought for the California class, i.e., a changed label. But 21 instead of doing so and proceeding to a risky trial in which the California class members might get 22 no monetary relief at all, they reasonably decided to agree to the claims-made settlement for

23
24 <sup>8</sup> A subsequent plaintiff may rely on an earlier plaintiff’s CLRA demand without making his own.
25 See, e.g., In re Easysaver Rewards Litig., 737 F. Supp. 2d 1159, 1178 (S.D. Cal. 2010) (despite 26 dismissal of plaintiff who sent original CLRA notice and filed CLRA affidavit, other plaintiffs 27 could pursue CLRA claims because CLRA letter had stated that original plaintiff “was 28 complaining on her own behalf and all others similarly situated” and gave sufficient notice of nature of alleged violations); accord In re Toyota Motor Corp. Unintended Acceleration Mktg., Sales Practices, & Prods. Liab. Litig., 754 F. Supp. 2d 1145, 1174 (C.D. Cal. 2010); *Sanchez v.

1 monetary relief. In connection with the settlement, they are seeking less in fees than they would be 2 entitled to receive under the catalyst theory—only 60% of their lodestar. These facts make it
3 abundantly clear that the settlement is not an effort by Class Counsel to enrich itself at the expense
4 of the class, but the exact opposite: to enrich class members at the expense of Class Counsel’s own 5 recovery.

6 F. Approval of the Representative Service Awards.

7 This Court should also approve a $5,000 representative service award to each of the 8 Plaintiffs as it is just, fair and reasonable. In deciding whether to approve such an award, a court 9 should consider: “(1) the risk to the class representative in commencing suit, both financial and 10 otherwise; (2) the notoriety and personal difficulty encountered by the class representative; (3) the 11 amount of time and effort spent by the class representative; (4) the duration of the litigation and;
12 (5) the personal benefit (of lack thereof) enjoyed by the class representative as a result of the 13 litigation.” Van Vranken v. Atlantic Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294, 299 (N.D. Cal. 1995); see 14 also N.D. Cal. Guide ¶ 7. Further, as a matter of public policy, representative service awards are 15 necessary to encourage consumers to formally challenge perceived false advertising and unfair 16 business practices.

17 Plaintiffs took on substantial risk, most importantly the risk of publicity and notoriety.
18 Gutride Decl., ¶¶ 59-60. Indeed, there were numerous online postings criticizing Plaintiffs for their 19 role in this suit. Id. Plaintiffs also worked with counsel throughout the two-year litigation. Id.
20 Plaintiffs responded to discovery requests, including interrogatories and requests for production, 21 searched their personal records for responsive documents, and attended their depositions. Id.
22 Plaintiffs also remained actively involved in the litigation prior to and after settlement. Id.

23 The proposed representative service awards are reasonable in light of the Plaintiffs’ efforts 24 and the relief to the Class resulting from this litigation. See Theodore Eisenberg & Geoffrey P.

26 1333 (2006) (an empirical study of incentive awards to class action plaintiffs has determined that 27 the average aggregate incentive award within a consumer class action case is $29,055.20, and that 28 the average individual award is $6,358.80.); see also Mego, 213 F.3d at 463 (awarding the named

6 Feb. 27, 2008) (awarding $5,000 incentive fee).

7 G. Dates for the Final Approval Process

8 Plaintiff requests that in connection with preliminary approval, this Court set a date for a 9 final approval hearing. Subject to preliminary approval being entered by January 11, 2019, 10 Plaintiffs propose the following schedule:

Item	Proposed Due Date
Notice Date	January 19, 2019
Deadline for objections, claims, opt-outs	March 19, 2019
Replies in support of final approval and motion for attorneys' fees, costs and representative awards; response to objections	March 27, 2019
Final approval hearing	April 10, 2019 at 2:00 p.m.

18 H. Conclusion

19 For the reasons stated above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court grant 20 preliminary approval to the proposed class action settlement.
